INTRODUCTION

Yesterday we entered high school, the world of proms, term papers, and "the blast." Today we leave. Here, history taught us why the world was shaped and science taught us the tools to shape it with. In clubs and school government we learned the art of getting along with others. On the sports field our bodies hardened and our minds learned sportsmanship. We ate the tree of knowledge served by the Mr. Farrels and Mr. Dufours of our world and questions such as "What's algebra?" and Shakespeare, who's he?" were answered. These lessons were only fact, however, not life itself, and life is her own best teacher. In the end we must leave this garden.

In our classes we studied together . . .

. . . or not at all

... or alone ...

When we had put away our poetry books and test tubes, assemblies . . .

. . . dramatics . . .

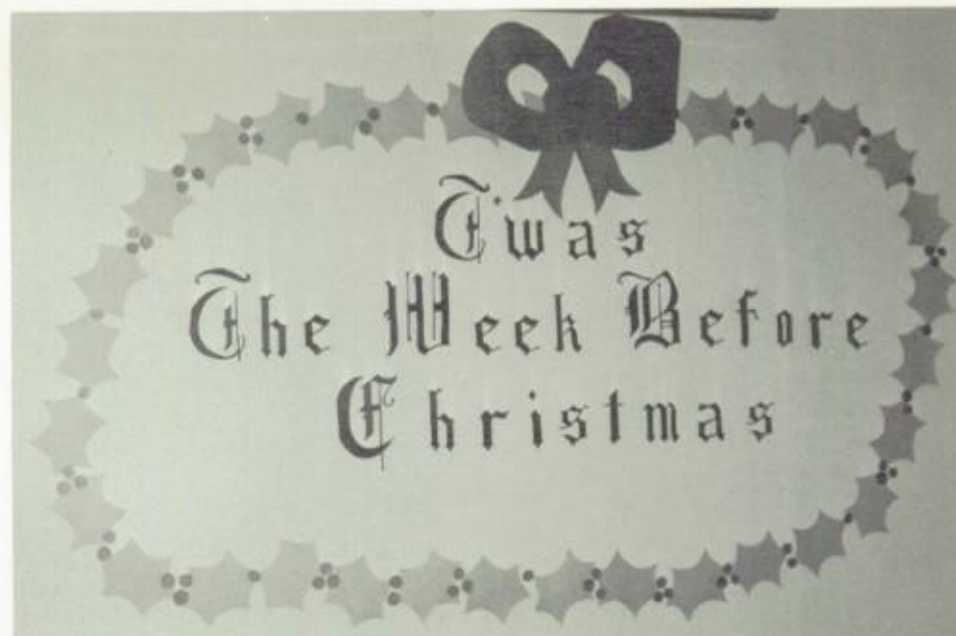

. . . music . . .

. . . publications . . .

we participated in the many activities offered to us:

. . . dances . . .

. . . and sports.

Often it seemed that we were the castings of one mold, . . .

. . . players in a game of Simon Says, . . .

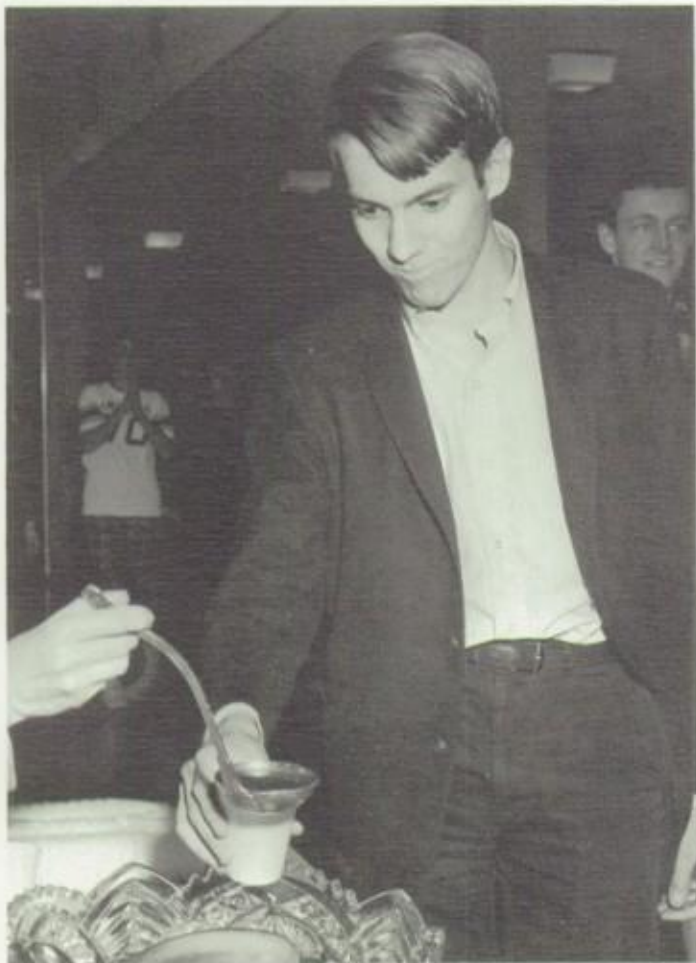

. . . products of a Xerox copier;

but from the blur of the faceless crowd . . .

. . . we have come into focus . . .

. . . as individuals.

Throughout our four years at Ludlowe the faculty has...

expanded our frames of reference, . . .

. . . cleared the way that we might see, . . .

. . helped us to our goals, . . .

. . . shown us their human side, . . .

There is no Santa Claus.

SENIOR CLASS

KEN ERICKSON
President

Seniors at last! New status, senior hats, senior privileges, and graduation! It has been a long time since we first entered the school as a new class — a long time in which we have prospered and grown. As we go our separate ways to college, to a job, to marriage, we will have the memories of the original and controversial "Sweetheart Swing" transformed into the "Jungle Safari," a Junior Prom with a name no one had ever heard before (and no one could pronounce correctly), and finally a whirlwind Senior year with "Twas the Week Before Christmas," the Senior banquet, and graduation.

Does the All School Congress improve with age like a fine wine? Or is it just a perenial flower of a system called education? I would like to think of it in the first context although a majority of my peers seem to think otherwise.

In a school where student interests are far too diversified for its own good, a student government is trying to survive. The A.S.C. has had, and still is having, a hard struggle. But it has not died!

I am a fervent believer in the unquestionable value of student government at Ludlowe. It has a vast potential of accomplishment for you as students, if you'll only give it a chance. This year's Congress has made many significant gains thanks to the cooperation of the administration. It still has not achieved to its fullest extent. With the co-operation and support of the students, the faculty and the administration the measure of success of our student government will be one of which to be proud.

I say these words with the hope that in the future the Congress can grow and the school grow with it. There is no reason, that in the years to come the A.S.C. can't make this school a place for you to say that this is 'Where the Action Is.'

Haynes House Council, as a student governing body, provided the students with an opportunity to participate in the planning and running of activities within their house. The purpose of Council is to serve the students by sponsoring activities and undertaking projects for the benefit of the students. This year the council sponsored the annual Christmas social, initiated a Haynes House newspaper, established a scholarship fund, and was involved in numerous other activities, ranging from selling coke and potatoe chips at a basketball game to organizing a bulletin board in front of the office to inform the students of Haynes House activities and to recognize outstanding Haynes House Students.

WEBSTER HOUSE COUNCIL

Webster House Council again strived to unify the students and faculty of Webster House this year. For the second year, the council published a newspaper, The "Webster World" which was known for such things as math puzzles and literary contests. The annual tradition of the Christmas social was also continued. A live Christmas tree was purchased and was planted in the Webster courtyard for the enjoyment of all Ludlowites for many Christmases to come.

Silliman House Council has again devoted itself toward furthering unity, spirit, and student-teacher relations in Silliman House. The Council sponsored a successful welcoming tea for our exchange student, Annika, helped to spread Christmas spirit in Silliman House, in Ludlowe and in the community, through festive bulletin boards and a Christmas tree, and most important, initiated the only student organized Honor Study Hall. Another project was the traditional Slave Day, the selling of plastic yearbook covers. Through continued hard work, the council made this year another successful one in service to the students of Silliman House.

ELLSWORTH HOUSE COUNCIL

This was Ellsworth House Council's third year in existence, and it has certainly been the finest one. "Ollie," its symbol, its hero, its mascot, saw Council through a fabulous Frosh Welcome Party, and wrote several "Newsletters" telling odds and ends of Ellsworth news. The Council and the members of the House are indebted to Mr. Mullen whose help as an advisor was incalculable. He was a major source of guidance and aid in the mission project to Larry White and Bill Smith, former Ellsworthites in Vietnam.

From a forest of torn layout books, tattered year-books of the past, and exhausted staff members has risen the 1966 Fairfieldiana — at last.

They say man reaches his highest moments in adversity. If this is true, you see before you one of the highest moments in human history. Ellen Harrison can now join a safari and Richard Bowen can slip into his forest. The war is over.

The troops in this battle were loyal staff members. Linda Roth guarded the coffers and gathered in more money from advertising. Connie Euerle and George Marr fought Joe Salamon regularly over sports pictures and Sergeant Marcia Frost got laryngitis lining students up for activities. Mary Lou Zdanowich gathered in the heads of waiting seniors. Donna Williamson and Tom Norton had to take a forced rest when their job was done, but even now the mention of "trees" sends them into wild palpitations. Diane Herbert may decide to write a book about her experiences — 101 Ways to Pose Teachers. Jane Yranski had to digest the output of this crowd and put it into proper English — a challenging task.

It's all over now, however, and the yearbook is finished. It was a great campaign and it's a great yearbook.

Richard did it again!

Ludlowe Students

Smoking Dilemma Back

By Marsha Maynes

December 9, eight students entered Mr. Warner's conference room to discuss reinstating smoking privileges for juniors and seniors during the lunch period. Participating in the discussion with Mr. Warner were Scott Currie, Jeff Sprague, Herbert, Richard Sebastyan, Joe Keller, and Marsha Maynes. Mr. Warner received a petition signed by 300 students proposing that the subject be restored in full. Mr. Warner felt that the subject was important and should be discussed.

Discussion

Mr. Warner opened the discussion after the eight solemn students had been seated. He began by giving a brief summary of student smoking privileges as far back as 1953 when Roger Ludlowe was on double sessions. In 1953 the sophomores, juniors and seniors were allowed to smoke at lunchtime. Eventually, the privilege was restricted to juniors and seniors and last year it was taken away entirely when a report was published that confirmed that smoking was Almost every Thursday night since Andrew Warde and Roger Ludlowe students have met at homes to discuss and plan projects involving both high schools. The official name of this organization is the School Council. Its chief purpose is to promote good-will between the two schools.

This year's council officers from Ludlowe are chairman Diane Salamon, secretary Marsha Maynes, and Marsha Doolittle.

Barb Taylor spent a year in Germany

The American Field Service at Roger Ludlowe had a record enrollment this past year and therefore was able to plan and carry out ambitious goals. The club was responsible for a new look — the permanent installation in the main lobby of full-sized flags, presented to us by our past exchange students. To help raise funds for two exchange students for next year the club had a very successful social after an exchange day with Warde. Newspaper sales, Shares of Democracy, and the annual student-faculty games provided the means for most of our funds. When these are well supported, we know the entire school is working to make possible a home in Fairfield for some student from any place in the world. At the club meetings twice a month, business meetings have alternated with speakers. Barb Taylor spoke about her year as an exchange student in Germany, Annika about Sweden, and Linda Roth about her summer in Costa Rica. Most of the meetings were conducted by the students with limited guidance by interested parents and faculty. As a finale for the year the club again presented a well heard forum involving exchange students from the nearby area and much of the student body at Ludlowe. The last function was the hosting of the foreign exchange students traveling through the United States.

. . . and Linda Roth spent a summer in Costa Rica.

Annika Schmidt, our pretty exchange student from Sweden.

The 7th of July 1965 . . . Just one rainy day among so many others in a Swedish summer . . . but it turned out to be probably the most important day in my life — I was going to leave the old worn paths to step on new grass, find my way in other directions. I was offered a new world with new individuals — customs — traditions — language.

A lot of questions were raised in my mind — YOU gave me the answers, through your actions.

You offered me your love and friendship, your homes, help and patience and all the little things that have made me come to love you and look up to you.

It is my wish that you too have gotten something out of this wonderful year of mine, not only as friends of "the exchange student," but also as friends of "Annika."

It has been wonderful to be able to experience how much we people are alike in our thoughts, even if we have different heritages.

How could I ever forget what you have added to my personality and life — things that never will be erased.

Thank you for a year of happiness — learning — giving — love.

Sincerely yours,

Y. Annika Schmidt

MUSIC COUNCIL

The Music Council, the representative body of the music department, was busy this year. To raise money for the organ fund, the Council sponsored a movie and a talent show. In addition, a department annual was published for the music students. The banquet, the grand finale of a fine year, was a success.

Each club in the school must have a function in regard to education, or it is out of place. The Drama Club is no exception. The majority of the student body is concerned only with the shows that are presented throughout the year, but to the members of the club the performance is only a minute part of a work, made up of blood, tears, and love. The work done throughout the year: small one-act plays done for classrooms, or merely for the experience; sorting and making costumes; reworking old props, old scenery, old lighting equipment — these jobs are basic to the learning process and enrichment of the high school experiences from the viewpoint of the drama oriented student. Thespians became a united group as never before. The ultimate goal of many of us has been, and still is, to achieve a working cooperation with the music, art, history, and English departments, and, possibly, someday to become a self-supporting department ourselves. With the continuing support of Roger Ludlowe High School — both student body and faculty — these hopes will be realized.

Der Deutsche Verein interessiert sich für alles, was mit Deutschland und den Deutschen zu tun hat, für die Vergangenheit und die Gegenwart. Während des Jahres haben wir Filme und Dias gesehen, deutsche Lieder gesungen und deutsche Spiele ges. Wir haben auch Gäste gehabt, die uns von ihren Erlebnissen in Deutschland erzählt haben. Wir sind Miss Wright and Mr. Hetaer, den Lehrern, die uns geholfen haben, sehr dankbar.

El Club Español ha dado a sus miembros muchas experiencias educativas y provechosas. Fueron a la Sociedad Hispánica, comieron una comida española y tuvieron una fiesta y pñata para la Navidad. Estas actividades eran posibles solamente por la ayuda de los miembros y los consejeros, el Señor Guarnaccia y la Señorita Connelly. Las reuniones semanalmente estuvieron informativas y interesantes. La mayoría de los oradores eran estudiantes y profesores de nuestra escuela que han pasado mucho tiempo en un país donde se habla español. Las reuniones estuvieron informales y los miembros se divirtieron muchísimo.

La raison d'être du Cercle Francais est d'encourager l'étude et l'exercice de la langue française. A fin de promouvoir ce but des excursions ont été organisées aux théâtres New-Yorkais, qui présentaient au public des pièces à la fois classiques et contemporaines. Une visite à Montreal a fourni une autre intéressante occasion, pour les étudiants, de mettre en valeur leurs connaissances de la langue et de sa culture. Visite au "centre de l'Académie" à fin de voir joué Le Cid et L'Avare, par La Comédie Française, visite à la "Salle Carnegie" à fin de voir le chanteur Jacques Brel ont été de parmis de nombreuses activités du club.

MODERN MUSIC MASTERS

Modern Music Masters is a national music honor society whose aim is the promotion of good music in the school, and in the community. Members are chosen from the choirs, the band, and the orchestra on the basis of scholarship, leadership, co-operation, and music ability. The MMM's big project of the year was the sponsoring of the All-Fairfield Concert. Featuring selected students from Fairfield's senior and junior high schools.

"To learn is an honor; to teach is an undetermined privilege." The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to give its members the means to gain insight into this privilege. Not only the future educator, but also the individual, is enriched by the FTA's guest-speakers, movies, practice teaching, and trip to a state college. The five main projects of the year have been the Third Annual Induction-Installation Banquet, a scholarship fund raising project, a new teacher-aid program, a tea honoring the Ludlowe teachers, and a workshop with the Warde F.T.A. The F.T.A. is not solely a local activity. Each year the members participate in conventions in Hartford held by the Connecticut Association of Future Teachers of America. This year two of our members were officers of CAFTA — Mary Billings, Newsletter Editor, and Jane Yranski, Corresponding Secretary.

The Ludlowe Independent Library Aides Club attempted to make the purpose of the library familiar to students. Its main objectives were to make the library a place where study and research would be made easier and more effective. Since the Library Aides' Book Fair was a complete success (thanks to the help of the students and faculty of Ludlowe), the aides were able to buy a gift for the library.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA

The Future Nurses of America was formed to bring together high school students interested in the field of nursing. To acquaint members with the programs and opportunities available to them, the FNA had guest speakers and sponsored field trips to state hospitals. The club also adopted a "grandmother" convalescing at Carolton Hospital. Each year the club offers a scholarship for a promising student entering the field of nursing. The funds for the scholarship were raised by the members of the club through the sale of candy.

The members of the Art Club were divided this year into eight smaller groups, each with a student instructor. These groups studied figure drawing, pencil sketching, clay, oils, watercolors, block printing, and portraits. The members' common interest groups provided a congenial social hour which was conducive to fine art.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB

The Motorcycle Club has been a very active club this year. Movies, guest speakers, and contests in riding skills have helped to teach the members what "safe motorcycling" is. The motorcycle has become a popular means of transportation and fun around Ludlowe, and it appears the Motorcycle Club will have plenty of members in the years to come.

SUE

I LOVE

YOU

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Well, You've got to be freshman sometime. It's kind of strange being at the bottom of the totem pole, knowing that there are three more years ahead of you. To look up at those upperclassmen, especially the seniors, and see what they have accomplished and what they have to be proud of, this is what a freshman must experience in order to know he is now in high school. You freshmen are Ludlowe's tomorrow-men. You are tomorrow's star athletes and tomorrow's leaders that we will be hearing about. It will be you who will, in the next three years, prove yourselves by proving this school to be one of the best around.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

This year we, the class of 1968, have made great strides toward becoming a great class for Roger Ludlowe High School. This year, we have shown continuous financial success in various activities including two successful dances, the "Winter Carnival," and the "Sweetheart Swing." In the next two years, we shall take even greater steps forward to impress upon every classmate that he should be proud to be a part of the "Class of 1968."

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Looking into room 230 any day after school this year, one could always see juniors at work—planning, budgeting, and making signs or other decorations. The entire class joined in managing many successful activities: The Dittoe Drag, the Faculty—Faculty basketball game with Warde, and the Junior-Senior movie, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," not to mention the sale of bookcovers and decals. Of course, the big event of the year was the Prom with the theme, "The Land of Nod." We all looked forward to the Post-prom which was held on the Port Jefferson Ferry. That evening, as well as the whole year, was a time to remember.

SENIORS

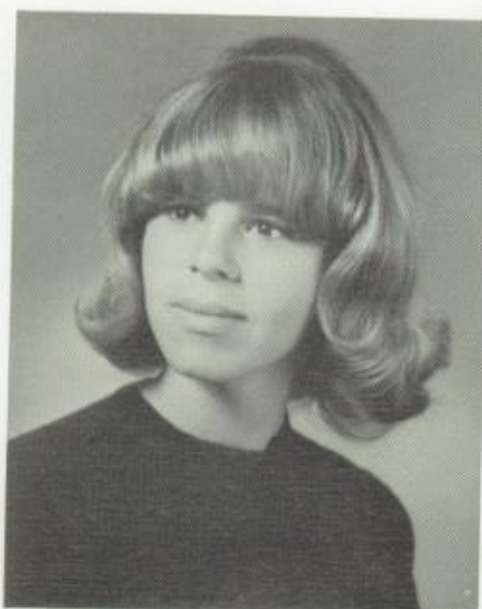

KATHARINE G. ALLYN
 "Kathy" . . . "Boy are you dumb!" . . . Cooking and sewing are satisfying tasks to this girl—and she's quite efficient at both . . . Capable of becoming a great homemaker.

PATRICIA A. ADDICOTT
 "Pat" . . . "Are you ready—let's go!" . . . A peppy leader of Ludlowe's school spirit . . . Has a mind of her own . . . Boys and sports are her main hobbies.

JANET L. APPLETON
 What secret prompts that disconcerting smile? . . . As individual and unusual as the tone of her oboe . . . Intelligence like Janet's cannot be hidden.

SUSAN A. ARCHAMBAULT
 "Sue" . . . Our blonde bombshell . . . Possesses the gift of gab . . . If the Marines accepted girls, she would join.

WILLIAM E. ARTMAN
 "Bill" . . . A welcome transfer from Warde . . . He'll never forget his Junior English class . . . Gets most of his sleep in study hall.

PAUL C. ASTED, JR.
 "Paul-Chris" . . . "Take it easy" . . . His smile is deceptive—watch out for irony . . . Finishes the cross-country run sooner there is a girl in the cheering section.

KENNETH M. ATHANS
 "Ken" . . . "Greek" . . . One of Ludlowe's stronger men . . . Frequently seen in the weight room . . . A dependable guy with an even disposition.

MARY A. AUGER
 "Mar" . . . "Ah, come on now"
 . . . Her warm personality touches everyone around her . . .
 Her smile explains her long list of friends.

ROBERT B. AVERY
 "Bruce" . . . "Gee guys" . . .
 Advice is cheap, have some of mine" . . . His cheerful disposition and quick mind are an asset to any class.

WILLIAM F. BABCOCK, III
 "Bill" . . . Always in the swim of things . . . A junior Casey Stengel, who is always talking baseball . . . His interest in people has won him many friends.

PETER W. BAILEY
 "Pedro" . . . "Cut it out, guys!"
 . . . "Where's my interpreter?"
 . . . Has his own dance style . . .
 Found with Seres and the guys . . . Always in a good humor.

JAMES BAIRD
 "Jim" . . . A man who does well in his studies, but definitely prefers the fun things in life . . . A head shot with his water bottle,
 Big Bertha.

MICHELE A. BAKER
 "Mickey" . . . "Well, what can I tell ya?" . . . Rich red hair and a golden voice . . . Mischief lies in her sparkling eyes.

CHRISTINA B. BALDRIDGE
 "Tina" . . . There's power behind those well-tuned vocal cords . . .
 Natural stage presence . . . Enthusiasm, ambition, and talent will guarantee her success.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRIT

School spirit is a big part of any high school and Pat Addicott and Zoltan Toman were the biggest parts at Ludlowe. Remember Zolie's booming "good morning!" each day of our junior year? And Pat's voice urging the cheerleaders on — even at basketball games?

BEST LOOKING

In every class there are a couple of kids you want to show off. This year, they were Perry Tallman and Laurie Bowser. On the football field and at dances, these two have been, so to speak, our show case models.

CLASS FLIRTS

There is always a dark, or rather, moonlit side to school life. Normally Loretta Duffy and Ron Broccoli put aside this facet of their activities during school except for a sly look and a wink now and then.

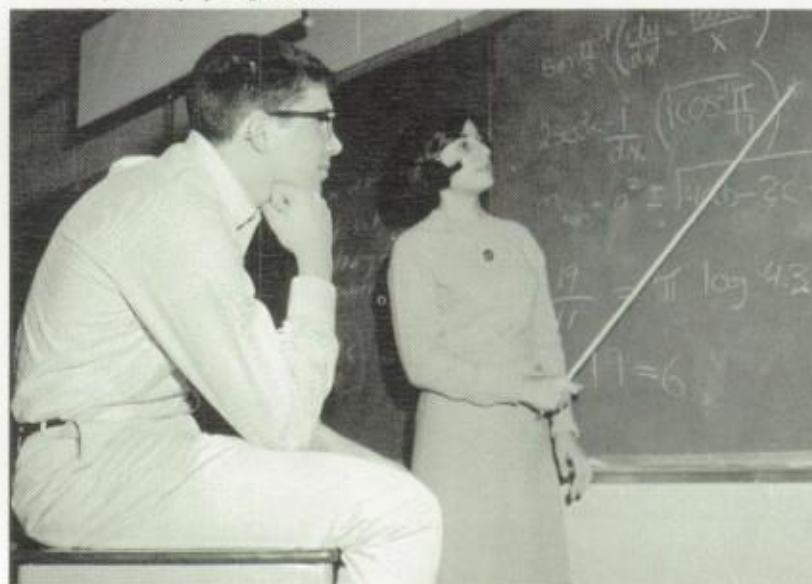

CLASS ACTORS

Our stage has had its ups and downs, but through thick and thin Tina Baldridge and Richard Bowen have always been willing to jump into any part.

MOST RESPECTED

Everyone needs someone to look up to, and at Ludlowe Carol DeCecco and Phil Selim filled this prescription with their ready smile and steady judgment.

MOST INTELLIGENT

Brainpower is the thing these days and Ellen Harrison and Dan Prober have plenty. One wonders about Dan sometimes, however — considering his puns.

CHARACTERISTICS

CLASS PRIDE AND JOY

Who was it that attended all the football games, dances, and cookie sales and generally did what every graduate should have done? Jane Godfrey and Henry Smith.

CHANGED MOST SINCE FRESHMAN YEAR
High school is supposed to "do something to you". We don't know quite what it is but we do know that it's happened to Priscilla Harrison and Charlie McLevy.

CLASS NONCONFORMISTS

Everyone has to be a little different. It's just that some people carry things to extremes. Jacqui Kohler tried to explain this to Van Vangor, but she only got his foot in front of the lens.

CLASS ARTISTS

"Crayons, anyone?" ask Sylvia Mayer and Chip Wells. They've conquered every other art form, so why not?

DONE MOST FOR LUDLOWE

Public servant, is a title that fits Andrea Karabinos and Scott Currie. In the A.S.C. and class offices, they have worked unselfishly for our benefit.

CLASS MUSICIANS

The clear voices of Cynthia Holt and David Molnar made Pirates of Penzance and The Mikado two of Ludlowe's most successful drama productions.

MOST SOPHISTICATED

In the mad dash of school life, it is hard to be calm — let alone calm and sophisticated — but Sue Mitchell and Tom Norton have managed somehow.

CLASS CUT-UPS

David Rockwell was the boy who found Canterbury Tales better than Tropic of Cancer. After the American Dream, Chris Mulvey made us take a suspicious look at sedate grandmothers. Together, these two have cheered many a classroom.

FRIENDLIEST

Annika Schmidt and Dave Champion always welcomed new faces and were ready to share what they had — be it an ice-cream sandwich or a warm smile.

CLASS BORROWERS

"Have you got a quarter you can lend me?" is a familiar phrase in the Ludlowe cafeteria. Hope Power and Michael Hull can assure you of that.

CLASS ATHLETES

Most people like sports but few have been as successful at Ludlowe as Linda Raveis and Bill Seres. In fact, they have participated in so many that at times they became confused as to what uniform to wear.

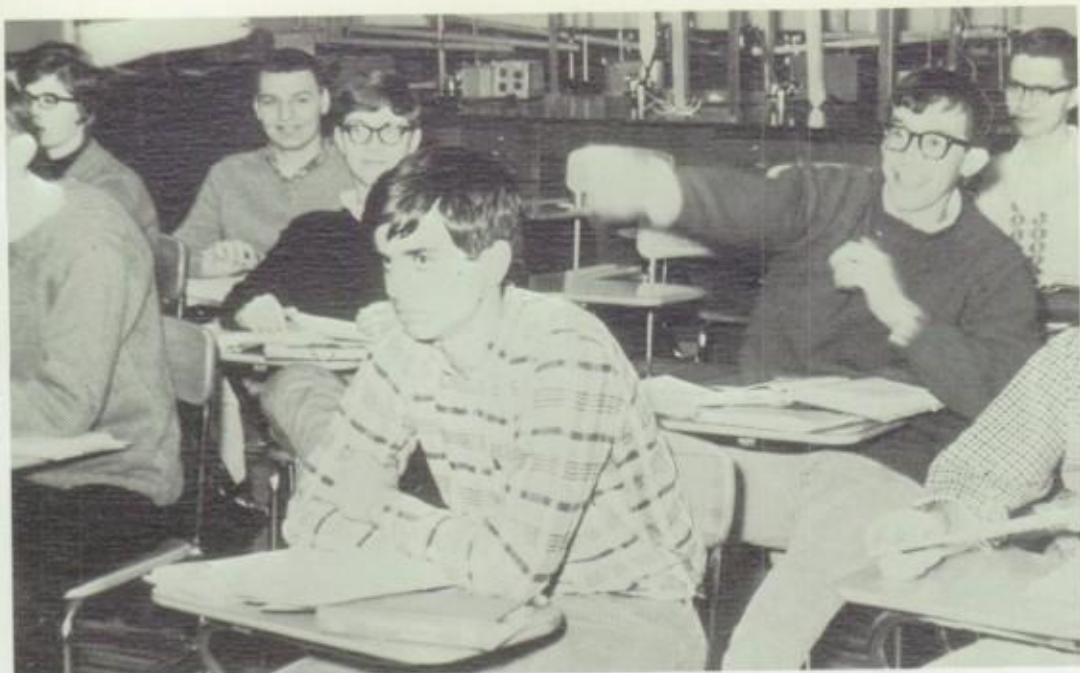

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

There's no need to worry about the futures of Helen Gernand and Tom O'Meara — financially at least, they have a fool-proof method for success.

CLASS RUNNERS-UP

The ranks of the Class of '66 are full of individuals with one characteristic virtue or talent. Linda Roth, Ken Erickson, and Janet McPherson are outstanding in so many ways that the class could not agree on which characteristic they deserved. They came so close to winning in so many of the categories that the editorial staff has created this one expressly for them.

Chip illustrates the theories of aerodynamics for his physics class.

If we stay down here, we ought to be able to hold out 'till after French.

And here's Dave Damer with the latest in Paris fashion.

Fourteen girls to four boys — that's three and a half a piece.

"Well, my theory is . . ."

"Hey Pat — how about a date?"

Blake zeroes in on a Bassick cheerleader — "Wow, what a figure!"

"I've always wanted to be the head of the cabinet."

"What happens when we get tired of standing?"

The girls backstage do their best to keep the actors happy—they even dry their tears of fright.

Helen demonstrates a subtle Hawaiian punch.

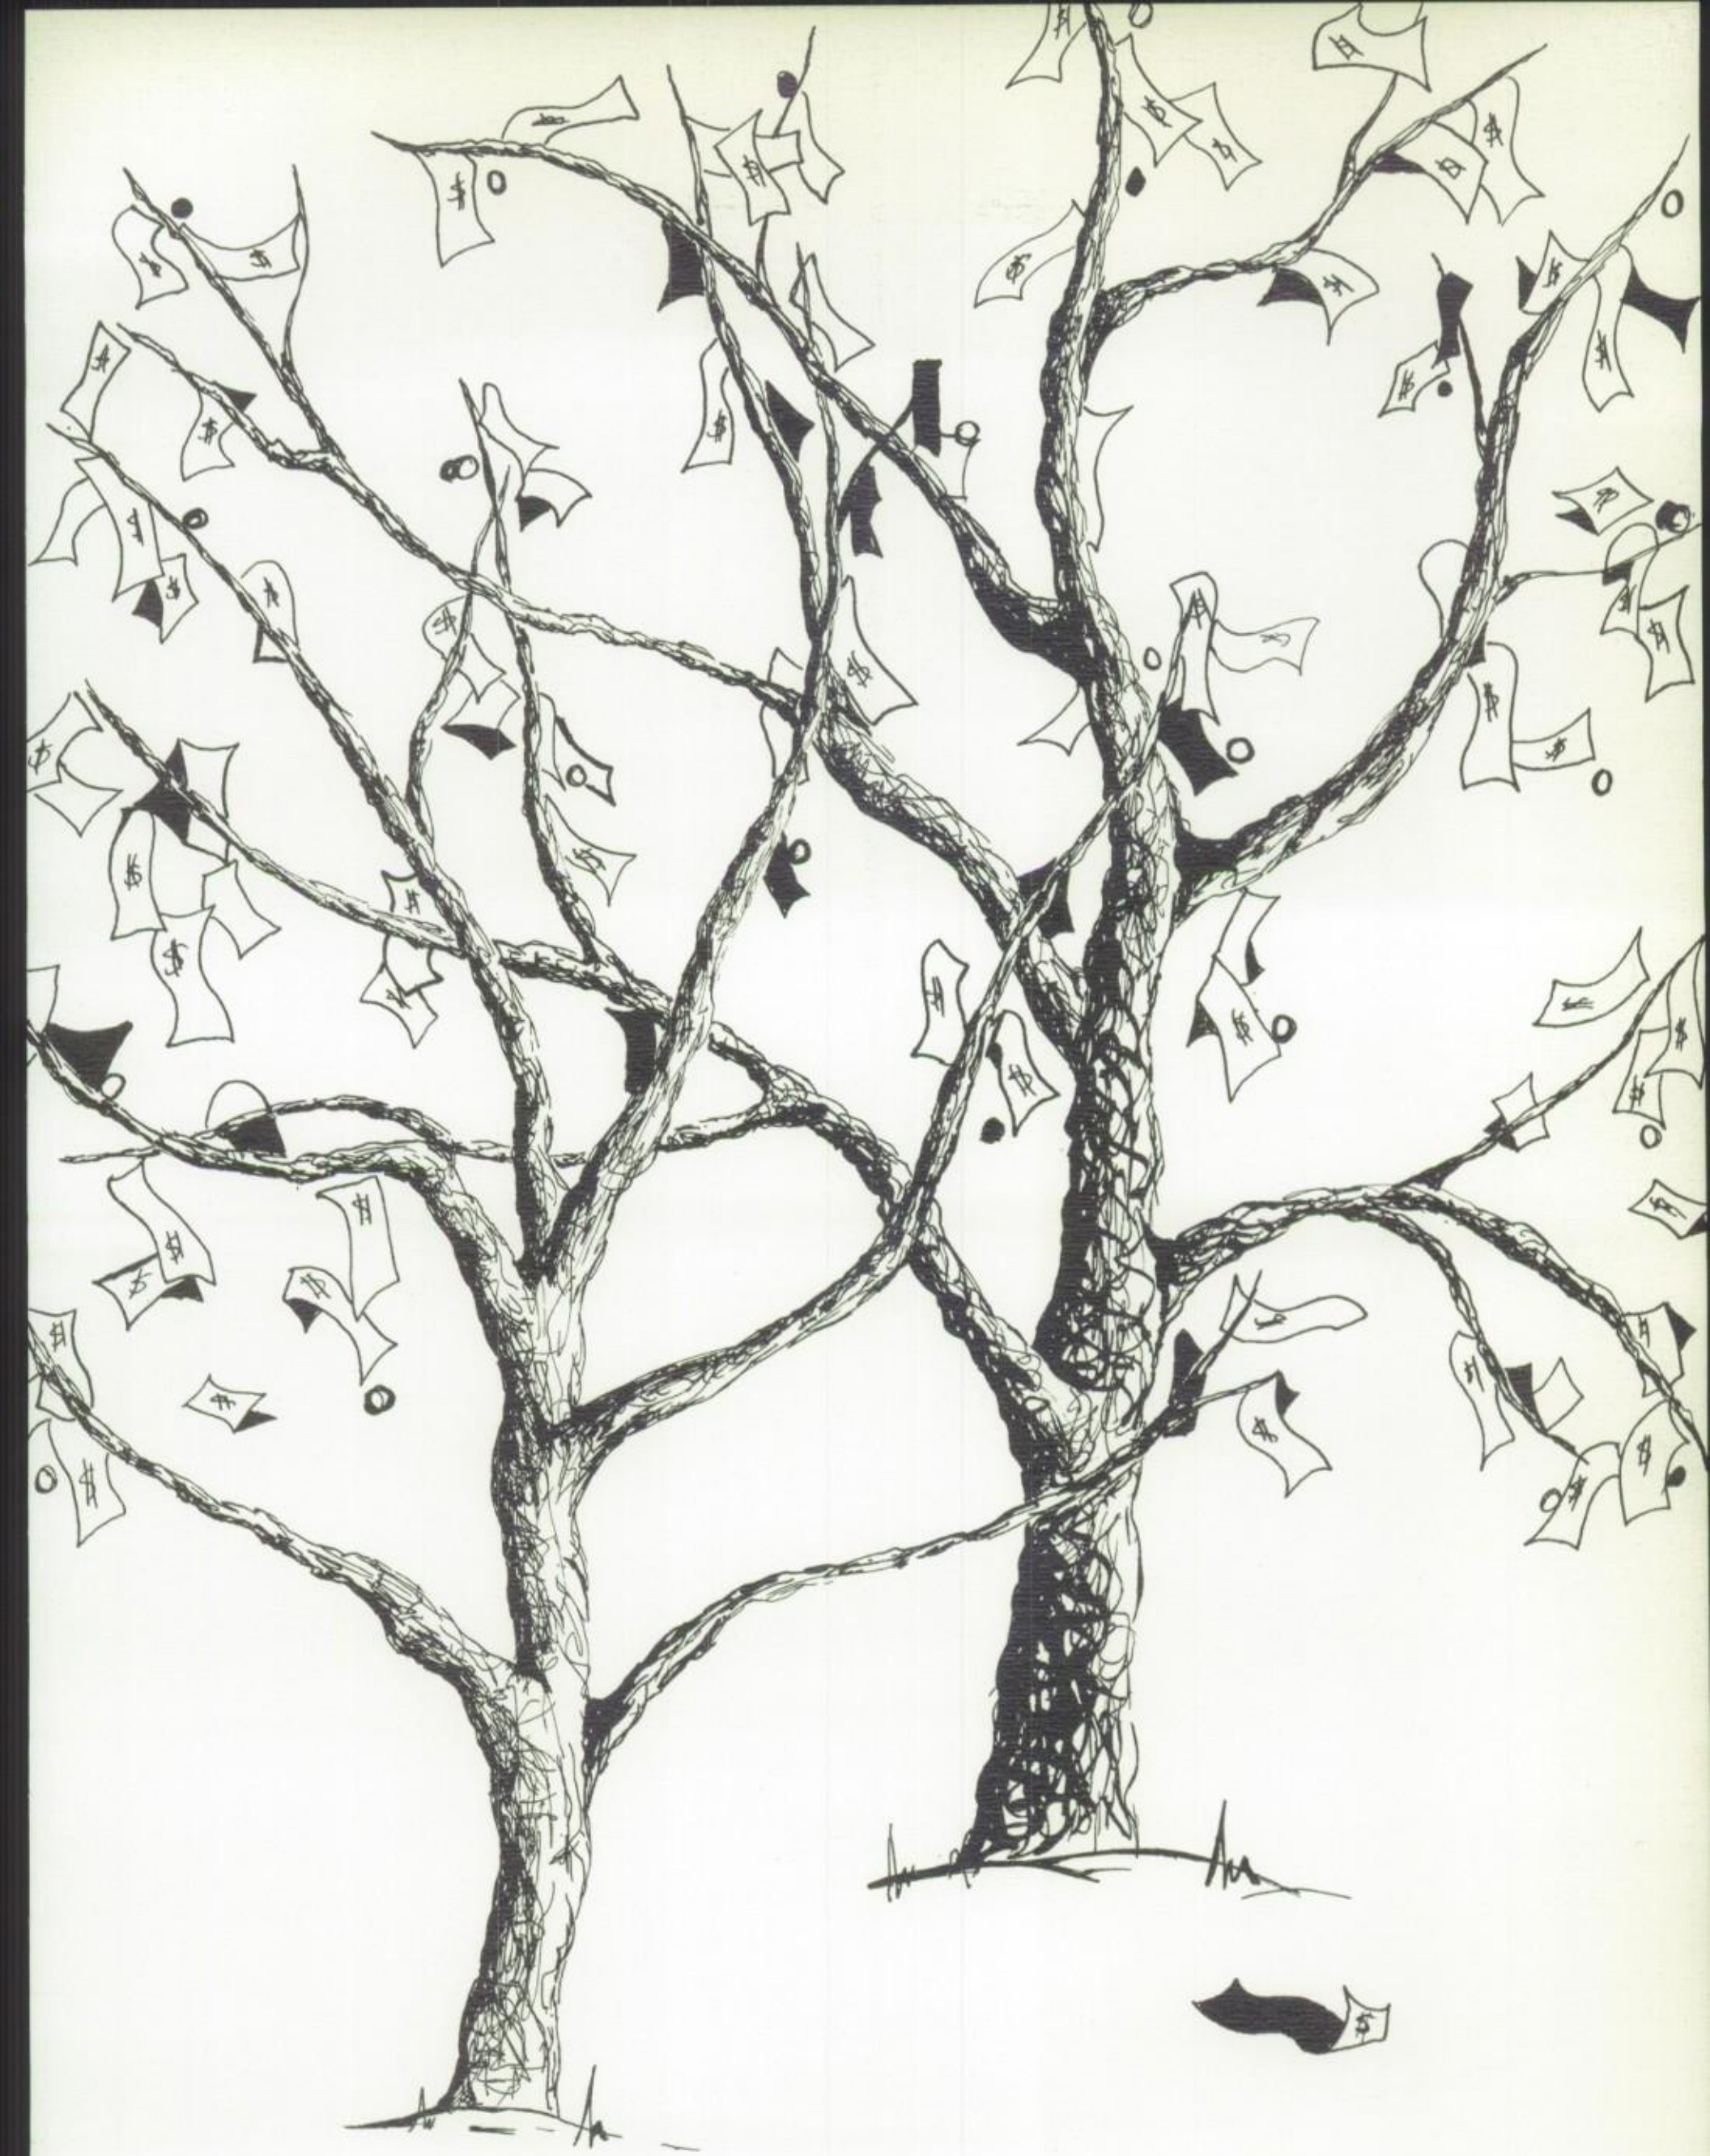

"You do the hokey-pokey and you turn yourself around . . ."

"And at twelve o'clock, her fairy godmother . . ."

Barb, good luck in your years to come and may you always find happiness in everything you do.
"Guv ya!"
"Debbie"
(your good friend from)
"Hards!"
